

Re-Route Traffic?--NO! E. Third St. Residents Cry

E. Third st. people, aroused over city council's projected re-routing of highway traffic over their home street, don't like it one bit!

No one thought they would. And, brother, they don't!

The Salem News learned in a house-to-house survey this morning that the neighborhood between N. Lincoln ave. and N. Ellsworth ave. is fighting mad. And they intend to make their objections heard by city council.

A number of the people contacted said they intended to appear at council meeting at city hall tonight, when the solons will first hear the city-wide traffic program to be recommended for passage by council's safety committee.

"More trucks on this street? Why, it's ridiculous," one man told a News reporter today. "We have a flock of them every night now and any more would make sleeping impossible. And think what it would do to our property values."

All the fuss has arisen since council's committee, working with Police Chief Nerr Gaunt and Safety Director C. E. Phillips, announced a city-wide plan to ease Salem's badly congested downtown business area.

A part of the plan would put Routes 62 and 45 on E. Third st. here. And another thing is the danger to children. Fourth Street school is very near here."

Council hears the committee report tonight and probably will either accept or reject the plan as laid out. There are a flock more changes suggested, but it's the E. Third st. plan that's arousing these citizens.

One property owner said she wasn't in favor of the re-routing program because "It'll hurt properties by making them sell for less and increase the noise. Almost every night, there are quite a few coal trucks coming through here. And another thing is the danger to children. Fourth Street school is very near here."

A woman, who rents the house she lives in, said "Numerous coal trucks use it now without re-routing it. The trucks frighten our baby."

"Trucks made a terrible noise last night and this morning. Traffic has to go somewhere, but this street is too narrow with cars parked along the sides of it," Mrs. Mabel Sheen of 641 E. Third st. commented.

Mrs. Hilda Kelly of 607 E. Third st. said: "The present traffic makes too much noise and dirt along the street. There are too many trucks and any more would make a steady stream all day."

Another resident said in disapproval that "Trucks and cars make too much noise."

An elderly woman, whose family has lived on the street for 37 years, voiced her negative answer, "because it's so noisy already and so dirty, the porch has to be scrubbed every day. Besides, the property value will decrease."

Two other women interviewed didn't know much about the re-routing proposal, but said it does not sound like a good suggestion to them.

Mrs. Margaret Schumaker of 418 E. Third st. said she did not like the idea of re-routing the two routes because "It's too noisy already. The traffic goes past here like a shot out of a gun."

Mrs. Earl McLaughlin of 351 E. Third st. voiced the same opinion. "The street is too narrow now and it is difficult to get across because of the heavy traffic. If Routes 45 and 62 were routed through here, it would become as dangerous as State st," Mrs. W. S. Wagner of 352 E. Third st. remarked.

Mrs. Wanda Marshall of 318 E. Third st. said "I think there's enough traffic through here. It'll tear up the surfacing."

"There's an awful lot of traffic and dirt on the street at the present time. You can't hear a thing on the radio and it jars our television set," Mrs. Valley Altomare of 288 E. Third st. opined.

Only one person interviewed voiced his approval of the re-routing proposal. He said "Re-routing traffic is a smart thing to do. I'm in sympathy with property owners on this street (he rents his house), but if this is the best temporary measure, it's the thing to do."

John Kirchgessner of 251 E. Third st. firmly disapproves of the measure. He said, "the street is too narrow and will be ruined as a result of it. If it has to be re-routed, find some other method."

Mrs. D. A. Wilhelm of 190 E. Third st. said "We're opposed to it because there are a lot of buses and trucks now. More traffic would cause the street to become congested."

Berea Residents Protest After 3 Die From Crash

By JAMES J. STREBIG
Associated Press Aviation Reporter

CLEVELAND, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Sport flying's richest and toughest race faced a new threat to continuance today with the death of Distance Flier Bill Odom and two suburban residents.

Odom's death plunge into a Berea home during the second lap of the Thompson trophy event yesterday revived the protests of area residents against the low flying speedsters, shrieking over their homes at 400 miles an hour.

The dark green racer, a converted fighter, ripped through the house, killing Mrs. Jeanne Laird, 24, and her year-old son, Craig.

Odom was flying an F-51 Mustang owned by Aviatix Jacqueline Cochran.

Cook Cleland of Cleveland, former Navy fighter pilot, took the Thompson trophy and $19,100 with a new record speed of 397 miles an hour. He also won in 1947 with a record 396 mph that stood until yesterday.

Cleland's new mark was the last of a series established during three days of competition. Records were pushed up in both the propeller and jet divisions of the Bendix cross-country races, the Goodyear races for midjet planes, the Sohio and Tinnerman trophy races, and the jet division of the Thompson.

The Thompson, a free-for-all, is the traditional classic of air races. But complaints about the noise and danger came from Berea residents even before the resumption of the race in 1946 after seven years' interruption for the war.

Eventually the course was revised to make a rough circle around the community of 6,000 which lies south of the airport and southwest of Cleveland.

The Labor day tragedy, killing one of the nation's best known fliers and two persons unconnected with the sport, brought an emergency meeting of the Berea Progressive Citizens league to draft a protest to state, county and nearby city officials.

The Thompson race has been a debated issue inside the daring

Death Toll Nearly 500 On Holiday

By The Associated Press

The nation today grimly counted a record breaking accidental death toll for the three-day Labor day holiday.

The full count of fatalities was not yet tabulated but the nearly 500 persons who lost their lives in accidents over the extended holiday was the largest for any Labor day weekend in history.

The highways took the heaviest toll. Of the 499 persons killed in violent accidents, 374 lost their lives in automobile mishaps. The traffic total was nearly 100 above the estimated 280 probable death toll made by the National Safety council. Forty five persons drowned and 80 died in accidents of miscellaneous causes.

The fatalities in an Associated Press survey covered the period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday.

This year's Labor day total compared with the previous high of 428 over the 1937 Labor day holiday. The record-breaking toll for a Labor day holiday week end followed the all time high in accidental deaths over the 1949 Fourth of July when 711 persons died violently. The all-time mark is the 761 fatalities over the four-day Christmas period in 1936.

Some 30,000,000 automobiles crowded the nation's highways, the safety council estimated, as the nation observed the final holiday weekend of the summer season. Weather generally was fair.

TAFT'S TOUR CONTINUES

Labor Day Observances Marked by AFL Blasts At Ohio Senator

CLEVELAND, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The 100-day hand shaking and speech making Ohio tour by Senator Robert A. Taft continues in earnest today with a solid agenda in Cleveland.

But Joseph D. Keenan, National director of Labor's league for Political Action, political arm of the AFL, thinks Taft will be defeated for reelection next year, anyway.

"The record of Taft is there before you," he told a Labor day picnic of the Cleveland Federation of Labor and Labor's League at Geauga Lake park yesterday. Some 7,000 persons were present.

"You in Ohio will carry on a campaign on Taft's record, and that record will prove to be the instrument that will result in his defeat," Keenan added.

Stumps State
Taft will stump here today and tomorrow, then move into Geauga and Lake county on Thursday. On Friday, he will hurry to Washington but return to Warren, O., on Saturday.

The Ohio senior senator first called his current tour, which started Sunday here, a campaign for reelection. However, an aide here, Paul W. Walter, has amended this to read: "A report to constituents." Walter said the campaign will not be on until after the senator files his petitions.

In the past, Taft has said organized labor expected to spend a great deal of money in its attempt to beat him. Keenan touched on this in his talk. He said:

"Pay no attention to all kinds of propaganda that we (the AFL) will have $15,000,000 to spend against Taft in Ohio. That is a lot of bunk."

Denies Huge Figure

Keenan said Labor's League was able to collect around $350,000 in voluntary contributions for political action in 1948. This year, he contended, the league expects to obtain "only about three times that much."

"If we have one hundredth of that amount to spend here in Ohio against Taft we will be lucky," added Keenan.

At the picnic he and other AFL leaders mentioned the possibilities as candidates to run against Taft next year.

Mayor Thomas A. Burke, Democrat, of Cleveland; Murray Lincoln, nominally a Republican, an Ohio Farm Bureau official, from Columbus, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, Congressman Stephen Young and John McSweeney, all Democrats.

Tobin Says T-H Law Must Be Repealed

BOSTON, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin says his department is going to "redouble the efforts we have been making to repeal the Taft-Hartley act."

Tobin said the law must be repealed "because it is a repudiation of the vital need of our economic life."

Speaking at Labor day exercises on historic Boston Common, the former Massachusetts governor said:

"It will go because the people of the United States will realize that it is a device to punish and hamstring unions, not to improve the relations between unions and management."

Dashes Madly About, Firing In Homes, Stores In Camden, N. J. Today

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 6.—(AP)—A 22-year-old war veteran went berserk in Camden today and killed 11 persons.

Four others were shot, two critically.

Then the man, identified by police as Harold Unruh, of 3202 River road, barricaded himself in a second floor room and exchanged shots with more than 50 policemen until they brought him out with tear gas.

He was captured, un wounded.

Under heavy guard, police took the man to headquarters.

They had to fight off an angry mob of more than 1,000 who screamed "lynch him" and "hang him now!"

Identity of all the victims was not established immediately.

Among those shot were a druggist and his wife, a shoe repair man, a barber and a young bride. Detective Marshall Thompson said the shooting in this industrial city in southern New Jersey across the Delaware river from Philadelphia began at 9:20 a. m.

Dressed Nattily

At that time, the detective said, Unruh, dressed natively in a light suit and white shirt with bow tie, ran out of 3202 River road, where he was a roomer.

He swung his gun into action and fired at passersby on the street.

Then he ran into the drug store of Morris Cohen, 40, on the first floor of the house in which he lived.

Cohen's wife shrieked: "It's a maniac! He's got a gun!"

She dashed upstairs where her son Charles, 12, was in a bedroom. She locked the boy in a closet and hurried downstairs.

A bullet cut her down on the stairway. She died in her tracks.

Cohen, trying to get away, ran through a back door. He was shot as he ran and fell over dead in a gutter.

Cohen's mother, Mrs. Minnie Cohen, came down the stairs at that moment. Unruh turned and wounded her.

Then the mad gunman ran from the drug store and into the barber shop of Clark Hoover, at 3210 River road.

He shot and killed Hoover. Then he ran into a shoe repair shop and killed the proprietor.

From there Unruh dashed into a dry cleaning establishment at 3218 and killed the proprietor there. At the same address he found a young bride and shot her.

Ran To Room

Then, Thompson said, Unruh ran to his own room where he had what Thompson described as an "arsenal of knives, clubs and ammunitions."

He barred the door and took shots out the window at passersby in the street. He felled several of them.

Among those shot down in the street was six-year-old Morris Smith and an unidentified boy of five.

Both died later at Cooper hospital in Camden.

Also killed by out-the-window shots were James J. Hutton, 45, of nearby Westmont, N. J., and Alvin M. Day of Mantua, N. J.

The whole battle lasted less than three quarters of an hour. It was 9:15 a. m. when Unruh was captured.

The dead and wounded were taken to Cooper hospital, which for a time resembled a field station at a battlefield.

All available doctors and nurses were pressed into service as the litters were brought in.

A squad of 50 policemen and county detectives tried to shoot it out with Unruh by pumping

All-American Secret

Until a better illustration is offered, a ceremony in New York city honoring Bill Klem, greatest of all National league umpires, will tell most of what there is to know about the all-American secret of getting along together.

Bill Klem, now 75, called the close ones until he was almost 70. He umpired in 18 world series. His honesty was never questioned, though his judgment was questioned times without number. He was on the receiving end of hours of violent abuse by men who disagreed with him, but when his job was over he still held their respect. They respected him because they had complete confidence in his integrity. Baseball, to Bill Klem, was vastly more than a highly commercialized sport; it was a way of life. He loved it.

Men competed with one another under a set of rules agreed on in advance. The rules were administered impartially by the umpires. Without them, there could have been no civilized competition. Whether they were right or wrong, they were obligated to use their judgment to the best of their ability, and only if they lacked ability could they be displaced—by the authority to which they were answerable. But they could not be overruled or overridden by angry individuals or angry mobs. The ceremony honoring Bill Klem was staged by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers Association. It was more than a stunt. The baseball writers were paying their respects to the All-American secret.

Tito In Small Doses

It's far from pleasant to fear the worst when the State department handles a delicate situation like the Tito mess in Yugoslavia. There's no secret, however, that many Americans do fear the worst, on the basis of the record.

What they fear, specifically, is that the State department will be so anxious to beat the devil of Communism with his own pitchfork that it will make Tito a kind of diplomatic hero. It was only four years ago, after all, that the State department was able to find unlimited merit in Joseph Stalin.

The fact was then that Stalin, despite his hatred of Hitler, was still not a man to be trusted. The fact is now that Tito, despite his defiance of Stalin and the other Communists in the Kremlin, is still not a man to be trusted. Certainly he is not a man to be rewarded with loans of public money or favors.

Tito is a Communist stooge who has decided to strike out on his own, in competition with the Kremlin. He has not changed his convictions about Communism. He has not suddenly become the friend of the United States. He's playing left-wing pressure politics for all he's worth—and since when did that justify any official or any department of the U. S. Government in bestowing either diplomatic favors or public money?

Negligence Was Shared

Within a week of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and other Pacific strong points of American defense, the White House had named a board of investigation to determine whether or not there was negligence on the part of the Army and Navy. Between Dec. 18, 1941, and Jan. 24, 1942, the board heard 127 witnesses and took 1,827 pages of testimony. Its conclusion: That the disaster was due chiefly to the "dereliction of duty" and "errors of judgment" of Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short in the Hawaiian islands. Their superiors were absolved of all blame.

Gen. Short died last Saturday night in Dallas. His military career was ended by the Pearl Harbor disaster; he was relieved of his command and retired soon afterward. He never accepted the White House board's report. A later investigation by a joint congressional committee absolved him and Admiral Kimmel of dereliction of duty. It revealed they had committed only errors of judgment, which they shared with their superiors in Washington. That became the judgement of all who tried to look at the record without bias.

Gen. Short stated that his own conscience was clear. He was no more guilty of the errors of judgement which almost defeated the United States in the Pacific before World War II began than his superiors who moved hastily to shift all blame to him and Admiral Kimmel within a few days after the disaster. But someone had to be scapegoat—and he and Admiral Kimmel were chosen.

All For Arts Sake

Paul Robeson's singing was to have been incidental to the "concert" he finally gave at Peekskill Sunday night. His backers are skillful at this sort of thing and usually manage to make the other side look pretty silly.

But in the Peekskill incident—both the "concert" that was given Sunday night and the concert that wasn't given eight days before—the people who disagree with Robeson about Russia knew the difference between art and politics. They knew that the main business of the "concert" wasn't scheduled to be singing; that Robeson's art was the bait in the trap. And it's significant that when the "concert" finally was given under police protection it was confined to singing. There were no speeches.

We deplore the violence caused by Robeson and his backers, who planned it that way. Even more deplorable in some respects is the gullibility—or perhaps it's the hypocrisy—of those who insist that nothing was involved but an artist's right to practice his art.

Why All The Fuss?

We are reminded from Washington that the freezing unit given to Mrs. Truman fits right into an established pattern of gift-giving beamed toward the presidential family.

In 1946 the President got a $5000 bowling alley as a birthday present from some of his Missouri pals. He also acquired a horseshoe-pitching court to help round out the White House athletic department.

Then of course there are items like 1000 neckties, a lot of other haberdashery for a man who was once an old haberdasher himself, and a wide range of personal trinkets.

So what's a little thing like a freezer between friends?

Guarding Your Health

By DR. HERMAN BUNDESON

Scarcely a day passes that I be beneficial only because they do not receive letters from people who provide him with rest and relaxation. Those suffering from asthma and other disorders due to allergy or oversensitivity are especially eager to try a remedy which seems so simple.

Perhaps the best way to answer this somewhat difficult question is to look first at some rather general considerations. It is perfectly true that some people do benefit from a milder, drier, or less changeable climate than that in which they are living.

Improvement Results

On the other hand, even when improvement results from a change, we are rarely sure just what weather factor may be responsible for it. Changes in temperature, air pressure, altitude and the amount of moisture in the air may all be factors, but we do not yet have any means of estimating their exact relation to various disease conditions.

When a person with asthma is promptly relieved of his symptoms after a change of climate, the chances are that his improvement is due to the fact that he has broken contact with something to which he was sensitive. This may have been a pollen, dust, chemical substance, or almost anything else in his former environment.

Set Off Attacks

In other cases it may be relief from some nervous factor which, in the past, has served to set off attacks. Unsatisfactory home conditions may be responsible for asthmatic seizures; hence, change to a new climate and new surroundings sometimes eliminates this factor.

When an adult leaves his family and business worries behind him, the new surroundings may be beneficial only because they provide him with rest and relaxation.

Persons who do not do well in wet, stormy and cold climates naturally improve when they change to an area that is dry and warm.

Sometimes, a change of climate may have a bad effect in that a person who is sensitive to some pollen may move to a climate where greater amounts of this pollen are present.

Infections In Lungs

In many cases of asthma, infection in the lungs is present. A change of climate will not necessarily relieve a condition of this type, and treatment with penicillin or a similar preparation is also required. In a warm, dry climate, the recurrence of such infection may be less likely.

A study of about 150 persons with allergies, such as asthma and year-round hay-fever, has been made. It was shown that about three-fourths were benefited by changing to a warm, dry climate.

A change of climate is justified only after the patient has been thoroughly studied and given the advantage of every other type of treatment available. It should also be remembered that when a change of climate is made, a period of a year or more may be necessary before any improvement is noted.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Defense Secretary Louis Johnson, a big man with a bald head, caused a lot of grins in Washington with the jolt he has just handed a bunch of senators.

When Johnson, a businessman himself, took over the Defense department last spring, he said he'd "knock heads together" if he had to, to make the armed forces work all right.

Since he has been in office, he has heard senators preaching virtues of the free enterprise system and the need for economy in government spending.

Nobody has to tell Johnson about the free enterprise system. He's a great believer in it, himself, having made a lot of money under it.

HE'S QUITE A HAND at economy, too, and when he hears senators preaching it he takes them literally, it seems. Only recently he announced he was firing 135,000 civilian employees of the armed forces to save around $500,000,000.

The senate had whacked $1,400,000,000 from the money the house voted to pay the expenses of the armed forces this next year. They chopped $800,000,000 off the money for the Air Force.

Then Johnson got a letter from Senator Elmer Thomas, Oklahoma Democrat and chairman of a subcommittee of the appropriations committee.

Seems in his letter Thomas told Johnson about 11 members of his committee wanted to take an "official" inspection trip to Europe, and some wanted to go around the world, and please would he send them around in an Air Force plane.

(Since this was to be an "official" trip, it would be at government expense anyway, whether they went by Air Force plane or one of the airlines or by boat.)

Johnson wrote Thomas he was sorry but there was economy to worry about in the armed services, and it cost about $130 an hour to keep a plane in the air on such a trip, and please would they just go by commercial plane. In short, he said no Air Force plane for the senators.

Then he put in the little reminder about free enterprise: "... I have felt that I could not justify placing the armed services in competition with commercial carriers..."

Every year when congress closes, or is near closing, as this one is, senators and representatives scamper off in all directions around the world by plane or boat.

When they go—singly or in groups, as a committee—on "official" business, it's at government expense. Which means that you, the taxpayer, pay for the ride, hotel, meals and so on.

Newsmen who cover congress year in and out estimate that 99 per cent of all travel by congressmen and senators abroad is at government expense.

One veteran house member, who hasn't missed a trip abroad for years, predicted that this year around half the 435 house members will be out of the country by the end of the year.

One house committee sailed a week ago on the Queen Mary to study "population trends" in Europe. Other planned trips include:

One to study medical programs in Europe; another to study military morale on the continent; and other trips are scheduled for Puerto Rico, Japan, farm areas of Europe, Panama and Mexico.

EXPECT STEEL'S DEMAND TO GAIN

CLEVELAND, Sept. 6—(AP)—Steel salesmen expect demand to remain fairly constant unless it is "interrupted by labor strife," says the magazine Steel.

The demand for steel is leveling off after several weeks of gain, said the trade journal, but the national production rate rose 1½ points last week to 86 per cent of capacity, the sixth consecutive week of improvement.

Commenting on speculation as to the effects of "ultimate settlement" of the current controversy between labor and management in the steel industry, Steel said:

"Some observers foresee an early settlement bringing a drop in demand. They reason that consumers will start to cut down inventories built up as a protection against a strike and that with continued steel production there will be no urge to buy tonnage until it is needed."

"Other observers believe that clarification of the outlook will

CONGRESS FACES HEAVY SCHEDULE

May Have To Leave Many Major Items Over For Next Session

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6—(AP)—Congress, now vacationing, is confronted by such a stack of major legislation that most of it may be left over until the 1950 session, a checkup showed today.

Leaders are expected to huddle in a few weeks to sort out the bills still to be taken up and those to be cached away until January.

The senate returns Wednesday, and the house goes back to work Sept. 21, after interrupting eight months of lawmaking.

Many members wish to adjourn shortly after the recess ends. Controversial labor and social legislation, together with a number of civil rights bills, are expected to be shelved until next year.

The pending category includes these major measures:

Financing of economic aid to Europe; passed both senate and house and tied up in conference.

Arms assistance to non-Communist countries; passed the house and now before the senate foreign relations and armed services committees, with early action likely.

Pay Raises Up

Pay raises for members of the armed forces, amounting to an estimated $303,000,000; passed the house and approved by senate committee.

Increases in postal rates; expected to emerge soon from a house committee, but action by house itself not likely for some time.

Raises in pay of top government executives; passed by house and approved by senate committee.

Federal aid to education; passed by senate and bottled up in house labor and education committee.

Government-sponsored health insurance; tied up in committees in both chambers.

Extension of social security program; approved by house committee and slated for house action after the recess.

Repeal of the farm price support system; passed house and pending in senate.

Repeal of the Taft-Hartley law; substitute passed by senate; pending in house committee.

Statehood for Hawaii and Alaska; approved by house committee but no action by house or senate.

Increases in pensions for veterans and dependents; passed by house but not acted on by senate.

Creation of fair employment practices commission to prevent racial discrimination; approved by house committee, no other action.

Repeal of the Taft-Hartley law; substitute passed by senate; pending in house committee.

Statehood for Hawaii and Alaska; approved by house committee but no action by house or senate.

Increases in pensions for veterans and dependents; passed by house but not acted on by senate.

Creation of fair employment practices commission to prevent racial discrimination; approved by house committee, no other action.

Nutritionists Delve Into Deep Freeze On Health, Budget Studies At Cornell

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 6—(AP)—Cornell university has a remarkable new school of nutrition. It analyzes the blood of entire communities to learn what food does for their health. It goes into homes to find out what quick freeze units do for dinner tables, pocketbooks and social life.

The new school's building is as large and beautiful as any of the other great institutions on the campus. The building is a gift from the farmers of the northeastern United States. The director is Dr. Leonard A. Maynard.

Gives 86 Courses
The school gives 86 courses. These are given with help from agriculture, home economics, plant and soil laboratories and experiment stations, as would be expected. They also have cooperation of the Cornell medical school, and the schools of engineering, arts and sciences.

After the war the school arranged with manufacturers of deep freeze units to give priority in sales to residents of Tompkins county, where Cornell is situated. Four freezer manufacturers and ten utility companies participated.

The purpose was to learn to what extent people will buy these new things, and what good they do from the point of view of disinterested nutrition scientists, who get no commissions.

One phase of this study, finished this summer, began at the bottom, with families which did not have much extra money. For $18 a year each, 313 of these families rented small freezers.

"They learned about freezers by renting one," says the study and here is what they said they learned. Nearly half thought meal planning and preparation easier.

The ladies became more independent of the daily grind of marketing. They found more good uses for leftovers.

They ate a lot more ice cream than ever before. They had a greater variety, more meat, more fresh food, more vitamins.

Made Work Easier
Many ladies thought their fine for making holiday dinner parties easier.

The women found more profit in gathering wild berries. The men found hunting and fishing really profitable, for the first time.

One-third thought they saved no money. Nearly half believed they did save a bit.

Dr. Maynard's summary: "They ate better. This was mainly because they paid more attention to food. The incentive was the freeze units."

After one year renting was discontinued, and the majority bought freezers. Farm families were less interested than city and suburban.

The blood studies are not complete. To do this, Cornell perfected a new technique by which a few drops, from a finger tip, tells an entire nutrition story. There are more than 1,000 persons on this blood roll. A single blood examination, for one person, ordinarily would take eight hours laboratory work, an impossible task. This was solved by a mass method of testing that reduced each individual's blood study to 20 minutes.

See Change In Buying Of Homes

Increased Activity Is On Throughout Nation,
Checkup Shows

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6—(AP)—A nationwide upturn in home sales within the last 30 to 60 days was reported today by the National Association of Real Estate boards.

The association, in a survey of local boards in 22 cities, got reports of "slight" to "decided" increases from all but three.

The upswing was attributed by the realty organization to a "return of confidence on the part of prospective buyers and the realization that prices are not going to break sharply."

"Families who had been holding up to see what would happen, consequently, have been reentering the market," the report said.

Two large Detroit brokers reported a trebling of activity. Boards in other cities reported a sales picture ranging from a slight increase to a "decided increase."

On the other hand, most cities reported "no appreciable change" in the turnover of business and industrial property, including stores, office buildings, factories and warehouses.

Included in the 22 reports were these summaries:
Boston — "Greater confidence, resulting in tendency to stabilize prices. Greater activity in residential field."

Chicago — "No marked upswing or decline."

Cleveland — "Most of our larger (real estate) offices report a substantial increase in the sale of used residential properties during past 60 days. This includes properties selling from $15,000 to 40,000. Builders of small homes under $15,000 have also been more active."

Detroit — "Our largest broker in new homes advises that activity in this field has trebled in last 30 days. A very active broker in new homes advised that he sold 300 percent more in July and August than in same period in 1948."

Indianapolis — "August sales very good. Much activity and interest shown in all classes, with higher priced moving a little slower."

Milwaukee — "Marked upturn.

Repeal of federal rent control and new state law a factor."

Pittsburgh — "A pickup in demand of from 25 to 30 percent. Very little increase in commercial and industrial activity."

LET'S EAT!

FALL SUPPER SPECIALTY—For quick "hamwiches," combine biscuit mix, milk, sliced ham and Dijon-type mustard.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

For a simple fall supper, try this easy on the budget and easy to make dish—quick hamwiches. A prepared biscuit mix plus Dijon-style mustard makes for a filling meal. Hamwiches go well with practically any side dish or vegetable. They are very good with a simple French dressing.

Quick Hamwiches (Serves 6)

Two cups prepared biscuit mix, 1/2 cup milk, 6 slices boiled ham, Dijon-style mustard.

Mix biscuit and milk. Roll out into round shape about 1/2-inch thick. Cut into 12 pie-shaped pieces. Cut ham slices in half diagonally to form 2 wedges. Place slice of ham on wedge of dough. Spread ham thinly with mustard. Roll, starting at wide end and press tip firmly to fasten. Place on greased pan with tip on bottom. Bake 20 minutes in 425 degrees F. oven. Note: These may be served with mushroom sauce if desired. Tiny "hamwiches" make unusual hors d'oeuvres.

Dijon Salad Dressing

(Makes about 1 cup dressing)
Three-quarters cup salad oil, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash black pepper, 1/4 teaspoon onion salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 3 teaspoons Dijon-style mustard, 1 tablespoon sugar.

Mix all ingredients together in bottle and shake vigorously. Chill. Shake well before serving.

Mr. Mustard's Deviled Pork Chops (Serves 4)

Four pork chops 1-inch thick, salt, pepper, 1 tablespoon fat, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons catsup, 2 teaspoons Dijon-style mustard, dash tabasco sauce, 1/4 teaspoon onion salt, 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, one-third cup boiling water.

Trim excess fat from chops. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Sauté slowly in fat until golden brown on both sides, turning several times. Place in baking pan. Add remaining ingredients to drippings in pan and stir well. Pour over chops. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes or until well done. Cover dish first 15 minutes. Baste chops once or twice with sauce in pan.

DEPARTMENT OF INFO

It's Salem Boosters club membership drive time once again. Unfortunately it's necessary each year for tickets to be peddled about Salem like admissions to a benefit production of some sort.

It's too bad that's the way the thing turns out, but apparently it's the only method by which the club can renew its ties with members year in and year out.

Anyone in Salem—with the slightest interest or concern for its athletic program in the high school and grades—should be anxious and willing to purchase his $2 membership in the club.

It's not an investment that's going to give anyone any material personal return. Outside of the opportunity to feel you're helping a fine program and a chance to attend a few interesting meetings, there is nothing that comes back to the Booster member.

The guy who feels he should be getting something in return for a Boosters membership card is on the wrong track. He had better just skip the whole thing.

But there are hundreds of local football, basketball and track followers who would like to be a part of a group with purposes like those of the club.

Paul Brown once said, "Don't ever short-change any project which is geared to helping or bettering the young people in your community. Your athletic programs are for that purpose and anything you can do to improve them, or make them more enjoyable and important to the kids, support it all the way."

He was dead serious. The Boosters are dead serious. Seek out someone selling memberships and get yours today.

Browns Tie On Amazing Comeback

NEW YORK, Sept. 6—(AP)—The Cleveland Browns, who walloped the Buffalo Bills, 49-7, in the All-America football conference championship game last December, had to settle for a tie with the same club in their 1949 opener.

Rolling from behind with 21 points in the fourth period yesterday before 31,839 persons at Buffalo, the Browns barely managed to escape with a 28-28 deadlock. It was the only AAC game of the day.

With the Bills leading, 28-7, as Quarterback George Ratterman sparked the Buffalo attack in his first game after a holdout seige, Otto Graham took charge for Cleveland.

Graham, the AAC's most valuable player last year, tossed three touchdown passes in the fourth quarter. Two were caught by Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones, and the final payoff pitch was taken by End Mac Speedie with only two minutes remaining. Graham completed 15 of his last 17 passes.

Cleveland's first tally in the opening period was a Graham-Jones aerial play, but the Browns couldn't do anything in the second and third periods as the Bills took command.

Ollie Cline ran six yards for Buffalo to knot the score at 7-7 in the second stanza. Then Ratterman scored twice on quarterback sneaks and Ch. Mutryn smashed over from the two yard line to give Buffalo 21 points and what seemed the ball game in the third period.

The Chicago Hornets meet the Dons at Los Angeles Friday night, and two Sunday games bring together the Baltimore Colts and Browns at Cleveland and the New York Yankees and Bills at Buffalo.

Jim Hyink, Lozier Caplan Capture Holiday Tourneys

Jim Hyink of Lisbon, with his No. 20 tee. Second place in the best score of the year, 76, and Lozier "Lester" Caplan captured the first places in the Class A and B flights of the annual Labor day flag tournament at the Salem Golf club.

Hyink's fine score gave him six strokes on the third nine and he planted his flag 210 yards off the Second place in the B flight went to Ward "Peach" Eckstein, shooting one of his best scores. Eckstein put his flag down just 21 feet from the No. 19 cup.

Activities at the club Sunday and Monday were heavy, a large throng enjoying the annual Labor day dinner in the club-house. Saturday evening about 75 couples attended the club's Labor day dance. A flock of Old Pal tourney matches were played, but complete results are not yet available.

The balance of the results yesterday include:
Class A—Bill Hannay, 3rd, six feet from No. 19 hole; Frank Beauregard, 3rd, six feet from No. 19 hole; F. E. Cope, 4th, 12 feet from No. 19 hole; Dr. R. T. Holzbach, 5th, 205 yards off No. 19 tee.

Class B—R. C. Blair, 3rd, one inch from No. 18 hole; Gus Springer, four feet from No. 18 hole, tied for 4th with Roy Yeager; Joel Sharp, 5th, 15 feet from No. 18 cup.

Harvard's football team scored 765 points in 14 games during the 1886 season.

A circus shot by Bud Myers of Columbus wound the game up with Columbus leading 8-7. On Monday with the dark clouds threatening the teams got through four well played periods when the heavy rain hit drenching the playing field and players as well so that it was impossible to continue. Each team had counted three goals and the second game of the series was left in a tie.

The Salem Polo club is planning to reconition their playing field this fall by fertilizing and seeding the ground hoping to eventually build a field which will approach the standards of the older clubs they have been playing this year at Columbus and Ligonier. If the field is not torn up during September there will be more play here in Salem.

IS ENCOURAGED BY LONG BALL HITTING SHOWN

Will Stick To Lineups
For Lefty Pitching.
Manager Shows

CLEVELAND, Sept. 6—(AP)—Although his Cleveland Indians have gained virtually no ground during their home stand, Manager Lou Boudreau today was still hopeful that they would retain the pennant.

It's going to be a tough grind, but I still think we can do it," he said as the club prepared to start its next to last road trip tomorrow in a series with Detroit.

The Tribe yesterday won a double header from the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 3, and 6 to 4, but failed to gain on top-running New York and second-place Boston.

During their home stand, the club gained a half-game on the Yankees, but lost a half-game to Boston. The Tribesmen were unscheduled today. They will return to Cleveland Sept. 23 for a series with Detroit and then end the season on the road.

Boudreau was obviously pleased over the club's four home runs yesterday.

"That long ball is what we've missed so much," he said. "If Kenny Keltner could keep on going he might provide just the right spark we need. At any rate, I'll go along with that lineup against left-handers."

The lineup Lou was referring to was used in the second game. It had Bob Kennedy back in right field and Keltner at third. Kennedy and Keltner accounted for two of the circuit clouts. Larry Doby poled the other two.

Although out hit, 12 to 7, in the first contest, the Tribe needed only five safeties and two walks to make their five runs.

Four of the markers came in the fourth inning. Doby's homer started off the rally then Joe Gordon walked, Kennedy singled and Ray Boone sacrificed. After Jim Hegan was passed to fill the bases, a squeeze play bunt by Al Benton brought in Gordon.

A double by Dale Mitchell then sent Kennedy and Hegan across the plate.

Benton, who gained his eighth victory in winning the game, allowed 10 hits in his six innings on the mound. Satchel Paige relieved him.

Bob Lemon's four-hit pitching had the Sox completely handcuffed in the second encounter

Gruelling Playoffs At Climactic Stage; Bliss Meets Amvets Tonight

It's been a gruelling week and a half pace. Both teams have survived through some wicked, wearing battles. Now the most important chips are down.

And tonight at 8 the Bliss Cardinals, champions of the National softball league, and the Amvets, winners of the difficult American league flag this year, meet at Reilly stadium in the first of Salem's "Little World Series."

After the games that have been played throughout the interesting Shaughnessy playoffs, the two or three remaining frays ought to be of a calibre hard to equal.

The first team to win two games will be Salem's new city champions, succeeding the Salem Cins, which lost out to Bliss in the Shaughnessy.

Tonight's attraction pits Amvet Johnny Zines against Blissman Wayne "Muscles" Russell. Both are speed-ball specialists, but both have deliveries distinctively their own.

The two teams stack up about equally in defensive power, both boasting fine infield combinations and fast, heady outfielders. Bliss probably isn't as strong in which the Tribesmen made all of their runs on homers.

Doby connected in the second, Keltner smashed a two-run homer an inning later and Kennedy came through with his in the sixth with Doby and Gordon aboard.

George Metkovich, former Cleveland player, slammed two homers for Chicago, the first with one man on base in the opening inning, and the second in the eighth inning.

Games will continue at Reilly stadium Wednesday night, and Thursday, if required to settle the issue.

The A winner receives a large trophy and the runnerup also will be awarded a trophy. Those, plus the batting crown awards for each league, are now on display in the Walter L. Strain store window on E. State st.

Coaches Undecided About Big Ten's 1949 Winners

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 — (AP) — Along with the experts, the coaches also are stumped in picking the potential 1949 big ten football champion, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Only five coaches went out on a limb to select a winner and they named three different teams, defending champion Michigan, Rose Bowl champion Northwestern, and the conference "bust" of 1948, Purdue.

The coaching sentiment probably was best expressed by Iowa's Eddie Anderson, who said: "It looks like a four-way battle between Minnesota, Ohio State, Northwestern and Michigan. Purdue could bounce in there, too, and Illinois is always rugged. But, as far as I'm concerned, Michigan is still champion until licked."

Ohio State's Wes Fesler named, "in no particular order," Michigan, Northwestern, Minnesota, Purdue and Ohio State "with the final standing of any of the five depending on how the ball bounces on a given Saturday afternoon."

Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois, like Anderson, picked Michigan to repeat; ranked Ohio State, Minnesota and Northwestern equally; and named Purdue the conference dark horse.

Mentor Benny Oosterbaan of Michigan modestly skipped his own title-holding Wolverines because "it's too early to tell about them," and ranked Minnesota and Ohio State as potentially the toughest teams, with Northwestern "only slightly behind, if at all." He, too, warned "watch Purdue."

Bernie Bierman of Minnesota picked them in this order: Northwestern, Michigan, Ohio State, Purdue, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana and Wisconsin. The Gopher grey eagle gloomily predicts his team will finish so far down the list because he has found no replacement for departed Halfback Ev Fausch and he still doesn't know who he'll have for guards.

Northwestern's Bob Voigts, another shy guy concerning his own club voted for Purdue, Minnesota, Michigan and Ohio State in that order. The Wildcats open with Purdue Sept. 24.

By not-so-strange coincidence Purdue's Stu Holcomb named Northwestern as his title pick, followed by Michigan, Minnesota and Ohio State in "one of the widest open races in years."

Indiana's Clyde Smith likes

Michigan, Northwestern, Purdue and Ohio State, take your pick, with the Boilermakers able to be "easily the big surprise team of the year." New Coach Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin rates Minnesota, Ohio State, Northwestern and Michigan the top teams, with Purdue a possible outside contender.

MERCHANTS TAKE TWO WINS SUNDAY

The Salem Merchants wrapped up a double win over the Homeworth American Legion 8-2 and 11-0 at Centennial park Labor day.

The twin win was impressive for Salem, the locals taking command in both tilts and never releasing it.

Morrison Bucks' Best Kicker

COLUMBUS, Sept. 6—(AP)—The first few days of practice for Ohio State's 1949 football team indicate that Fullback Curly Morrison is the outstanding punter of the squad.

At yesterday's practice, he was booting 70 yards consistently with the wind at his back and 60 yards plus, on occasion, as he faced a stiff breeze. Vic Janowicz and Pete Perini also worked in the kicking department.

Both morning and afternoon drills were held yesterday. Emphasis in the afternoon was on pass offense and defense, which Coach Wes Fesler has stressed heavily since practice began Wednesday.

Minor injuries kept three top-flight ends on the sidelines for the workouts. Ed Basing has a pulled shoulder muscle; Tom Watson was resting his trick knee, and Chuck Gilbert was nursing a minor back injury. All are expected to be back in action soon.

Syracuse switches to the T formation this fall under Coach Floyd Schwartzwalder. Bernie Stewart owns a pair of pacing nares along with his father, Alex.
